COL. MITCHELL CONTROVERSY CONTINUES TO BOIL

AMERICANS TO SIT WITH POWERS FOR ARMS DISCUSSION

Attendance At Preliminary Meeting in Geneva Is Quite Probable

WOULDN'T COMMIT
U. S. TO PROGRAM

President Wants Support
Of Congress Before
Making Decision

Washington, Dec. 19.—The United States probably will be represented in the meeting of the powers at Geneva on Feb. 15, next, to discuss the preliminary conference that the League of Nations proposes to stage at a later date.

Definite decision is still lacking, but it was learned today that the conference that has been proceeding between President Coolidge, Secretary of State Kellogg and senate leaders have developed a general feeling that the United States should take part in the preliminary discussions—in respect of what later action is determined upon in relation to the conference itself.

President Coolidge is proceeding cautiously in the matter. He has informed senate leaders that he does not wish to undertake any commitments unless he is assured of the general support of congress in any event before the United States could fully participate in the conference.

With the irreconcilables of the senate already up in arms against the administration over the world court, Mr. Coolidge is not anxious to commit matters by a new warfare over American partnership with the League of Nations in a disarmament policy particularly when some consultation and consideration before hand may avert it.

Primary Object
The primary object of the February meeting at Geneva is to discuss a program for the conference. It is important if for no other reason than the unless the powers can get together on a program the whole conference goes by the boards.

President Coolidge has definite ideas as to what should go into the program, and the extent to which the United States should participate—in it.

The principal objective of any conference, the president believes, should be to reduce the standing armies or Europe to the same scale that the American army has been reduced—that is, to the proportions of a national police force, no larger than is necessary to preserve internal peace and insure order. The president believes this reform necessary not only in the interests of world peace, but also in the economic interests of Europe.

American attendance at the preliminary meeting in Geneva, it was pointed out today, would not necessarily commit the United States to anything. If the program drawn up did not come within the scope of what the American government believes necessary to a successful conference, the administration could refrain from any further participation.

SALEM MUSICIANS ATTRACT CROWDS

Jackson Orchestra Making
Name For Itself At Miami, Florida

All southern Florida is praising the Miami Shores orchestra, a nearly all-Italian organization, according to The Miami Herald in a recent issue. The Herald devotes over a column to the accomplishments of the Jackson-Chapman-Bartholomew band of jazz artists.

In this orchestra are members of the famous "Musical Jacksons" family, and the following Salem musicians, Ray J. Bartholomew, George Chappell and Mrs. Bartholomew, who is a sister of George L. Jackson, director.

The Herald says in part: "We could do a lot of flag waving for Mr. Jackson's talent, but it seems to be unnecessary. Any evening you pass by the Miami Shores office at 7:30 you will see an audience already taking up all the chairs. And the concert doesn't begin until 8:15. The audience is a well dressed intelligent one and not a ragged assembly looking for a place to rest."

"People are interested in Jackson's orchestra. Radio programs have brought telegrams from everywhere. Some Alaska and boats at sea. Besides playing daily for Miami Shores, at Burdine's Roof Garden and at the White Temple every Sunday evening Jackson, the violinist, teaches as he did in Chicago from where he came a year ago."

EIGHT PASSENGERS AND TWO TRAINMEN INJURED IN CRASH

Pennsy Locomotive Turns
Over Near Altoona
Early Today

Gallitzin, Pa., Dec. 19.—Engineer Albert S. Pyle and Fireman H. G. Ashell and two passengers were injured seriously and six other passengers sustained cuts and bruises early today when Pennsylvania train No. 2 Pittsburgh to Philadelphia, was derailed between Gallitzin and Crissan, Pa.

All units of the train, comprising the locomotive, three Pullman cars, two passenger coaches, two express cars and a combination car, left the rails when the train, pushing its way over the peak of the Allegheny mountains, before dawn, ran into an obstruction as yet unknown to company officials.

The locomotive turned over, but all other units of the train remained upright. In leaving the rails, the locomotive toppled over onto the three adjoining main line tracks of the Pennsylvania railroad, blocking traffic from all directions.

Included in the injured were: John Sprayer, 59; Baislow, O. Combs, fractured nose; head and face lacerated. Condition serious.

Rev. Victor Joseph, 34, negro, 851 Clements ave., Dayton, O., lacerations of back and head.

All injured passengers were rushed to the Altoona hospital where they were treated. Altoona is ten miles east of the scene of the wreck.

While wrecking crews from Altoona and Pittsburgh cleaned debris from the four main line tracks, all main line trains were routed over other roads.

Pennsylvania railroad officials from Pittsburgh started an investigation of the accident.

Officers Interfere Before Prize Could Be Named; 400 Fined

Bedford, O., Dec. 19.—Which of the nearly 400 men who gathered in the Old Green Valley Inn, late last night, to participate in a "raffle" in which six girl entertainers, more or less sketchedly clad, were the prizes, would have drawn the lucky number probably never will be known, for early today while two of the six prizes were giving a dancing exhibition Bedford and Maple Heights police and special officers swooped down upon the place and arrested all the spectators and the six "prize" girls, forced them to march a mile and a half to the Bedford town hall, where Mayor Tom Day convened his court, and worked throughout the night imposing sentences.

The men were brought before him in platoons of 20, and a uniform fine of $5 and costs were meted out. Some short of money left auto tires, watches and jewelry as security.

ALLEGED LEADER OF WHITE SLAVERS NABBED IN SALEM

Italian Arrested Here For Wooster Case; Ring Was To Operate Here

Wanted as one of the alleged leaders of a statewide white slave ring, Joe Collian, a foreigner, said to be a resident of Wooster, was arrested here late Friday by Chief of Police T. W. Thompson.

Collian was placed under arrest for the sheriff of Wayne county who came from Wooster and took the man back to face several serious charges.

Chief Thompson did not learn many of the details of the ring, but reports say that Collian is one of the leaders of a ring which has been abducting girls in Ohio cities and towns, and taking them into vice dens in large cities in other states.

Federal investigators have been working on the case, and charges of violating the Mann act will be filed against Collian.

Collian, it is believed, was tipped off that his arrest was imminent in Wooster where he had his headquarters, and he came to Salem after trying to cover his trail.

Instead of using the big cities as headquarters, this gang, it is reported, worked in the smaller cities where the white slavers believed they could operate without attracting the attention of federal secret service operatives.

Salem was to be the new capital of the vice gang, reports from Wooster say, as Collian feared to go back there and planned to stay here and operate from this city.

Chief Thompson received a message from Wooster and after an investigation found Collian. The man, an Italian, refused to talk.

Saturday Collian is said to have told a friend that a girl followed him to Salem and he believes the charge must be concerning her and he disclaims knowledge of white slave operations.

SHOT BY BANDITS WHO STEAL $5,000

New York, Dec. 19.—Sidney Rockman, of Brooklyn, was shot in the arm by one of four bandits today as they were fleeing in an automobile from the office of the Montank Red company, in Brooklyn, where they had held up the office forces and escaped with a $5,000 payroll.

Rockman dashed out into the street to get the numbers of the bandit car. One of its occupants leaned out and fired a bullet struck Rockman in the arm.

Rushing To Children, Volunteer Fireman Is Struck By Salem Auto

Canfield Man Is In Serious
Condition As Result
Of The Accident

PLANING MILL IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

H. M. VanArsdale Left Fire
To Quiet Children
When He Was Hit

Worry over the safety of his children in a machine parked across from the C. H. Neff planing mill and lumber yard, Canfield, Friday evening, when he was helping fight a stubborn blaze inside the mill, may cause the death of H. M. VanArsdale, prominent Canfield resident.

VanArsdale was one of the volunteers who hurried to the fire which started about 6 p. m. Friday, supposedly from an overheated furnace. His children were in his machine which he drove to the blaze. The mill is on the Salem-Canfield rd., just east of the Erie tracks.

Leaving the car on the north side of the road, VanArsdale dashed into the burning building to help the volunteer department fight the blaze which gutted part of the building and caused several thousand dollars damage before it was subdued.

Dashes Across Street
Suddenly, it is reported, he heard cries of his children, and thinking they had become frightened, and would run across the street to be nearer him, the man, ran out of the building and was on his way across the road when he was struck by a sedan driven by Ward Eckstein, manager of the Salem Motor Co.

Mr. Eckstein said Saturday that the man ran squarely into the side of the machine, and that he lost consciousness. Mr. Eckstein, on learning the circumstances, believes the man looked in neither direction but dashed over to see that his children did not get hurt.

VanArsdale sustained a fractured leg near the ankle, six broken ribs and his shoulder was injured. He was carried to his home and later was removed to the Youngstown City hospital where physicians said today that his condition is serious and no one will be allowed to see him before Monday.

Two Youngstown fire companies were called to help fight the fire but the blaze was extinguished before they arrived.

MAN FLEEDED OUT OF $1,500 SAVINGS

East Palestine Man Of 60
Is Victim Of Old Game;
"Visitor" Flees

John Chuev, aged about 60, an Austrian, who lives alone at the edge of East Palestine, was "fleeched" out of $1,500 Friday by an unidentified man for whom the police of that town and the county sheriff are looking.

The "gag" was worked this way: Not long ago a man visited Chuev and inquired about buying his home. Later he received another "visit" from an Austrian, who pretended to have lots of money and just wanted a place to stay with one of his own nationalities.

It is reported that he said he would make Chuev a present of $1,000, some of which was to be given to a church and the remainder to be used as he pleased. However, as evidence of good faith, Chuev was to put up $500.

Chuev drew this amount and a few dollars over, from the bank, all of which he had and arrangements were made with the man, and it is understood that the money was to be placed in a trunk. After his "visitor" had gone, Chuev found that his money was gone and that he had only a roll of paper.

The theft was reported to the East Palestine police and to Sheriff Wright but there is no clue to it.

Society Of Gastronomes Aids Fine Art Of Dining In London

London, Dec. 19.—If the shades of departed Britons know today what's going on in this tight little island, old Samuel Johnson and even Samuel Pepys must have smiled an envious approval on the board to which the Society of Gastronomes sat down at its last reunion.

The aim and object of this remarkable society is to further the fine art of dining, in London. It is a cosmopolitan body and the secrets of some of the world's famous cuisines were searched in providing the menu for the 21st annual banquet of the Gastronomes.

The oysters came from the coast of Brittany, Mme. Matagle, wife of the head chef at Frascati, who knows more about cooking than Cleopatra knew about love, made a special pilgrimage to Brussels for sprouts, to be sure, but not the ordinary variety, which as everybody knows, were invented in England.

Mme. Matagle sought hop sprouts, which figured in a garniture—mind the fine art thus implied—for some fillets of saddles of milk lamb on toasted croutons. Her quest was successful. The fillets were served also with a sauce obtained from the cooking of the saddles, and the entire formula for this dish is known only to Mme. Matagle herself.

Americans with Volsteadian predilections would have had a chance to test the practical working out of their convictions when the servants brought in pheasant cooked in casserole with brandy and chestnuts.

The whole feast ended with a nautical touch with the appearance of "Le Gastronomes" a boat loaded with leached biscuits in filbert paste and chopped fruit soaked in curacao.

Nether Sir Oliver Lodge nor Sir Conan Doyle was present at the feast and in the absence of direct spiritualistic communication the approval of Mr. Pepys and Dr. Johnson is supposed.

DISQUIETING NEWS IS RECEIVED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES

Congressmen Indicate They Are Out Gunning For War Department

FLYING COLONEL
REMAINS SILENT

Ordered To Appear Before
The Shenandoah Naval
Court Of Inquiry

Washington, Dec. 19.—Rather than quieting down as was expected by the war department, the controversy kicked up by Col. William Mitchell continued to boil today.

From a variety of sources came disquieting news to military officials who believed the courtmartial decision would mark the closing chapter in their long drawn out fight over aviation policy with the "flying colonel."

Reports from scattered sections of the country indicated that an imposing number of resignations might be turned in by military sympathizers of Mitchell. May congressmen have indicated they are out "gunning" for the war department, and the army personnel itself is divided over the fairness of the suspension verdict.

The gravest concern was felt by many officials over the possibility that the department's appropriations would be fought in congress in retaliation for the bitter fight against the aviator.

Mitchell is silent. Mitchell himself continued to remain silent today. He told friends that until his sentence had gone through departmental channels to the president and been finally passed upon, he would have "nothing to say."

Mitchell has been ordered to appear Monday before the Shenandoah naval court of inquiry. The navy tribunal has held up a final report in order to get another opportunity to "force" Mitchell to testify. When he first appeared, the flying colonel refused to answer questions but the court let the incident drop because of the army trial.

With sentence passed navy officials now feel that Mitchell must testify or be held in contempt. Indications today were that Mitchell would have little more to say to the court than on his initial appearance. Rep. Frank R. Reid, (R) of Illinois, defense counsel, was said to be anxious to have Mitchell cited for contempt in order to get a hearing in federal courts. This would furnish another forum in which Mitchell could air his charges that the navy was attempting to "whitewash" the Shenandoah disaster.

Mitchell was relieved of technical arrest by the war department today and granted permission to spend the week end at his nearby country home in Virginia. He must return Monday to answer the subpoena of the Shenandoah court of inquiry.

Any requests Mitchell may make to change his residence or visit any part of the United States will be granted, it also was announced at the department. Mitchell may shortly return to his home in Detroit.

He will receive Secretary Davis' permission to go to South Africa on a big game hunting trip. Mitchell has planned the trip for next year and probably will hunt by airplane.

THE CHAPMAN CASE

There appears to be an abundance of common sense in the decision of Federal Judge Thomas of Hartford, Conn., in the Gerald Chapman case. Chapman was a mail robber, a bandit of the extraordinary type serving time in the federal prison at Atlanta. He escaped but was captured, taken to Connecticut, tried for murder, convicted and given the death sentence.

Then he brought forth some novel claims. He said he was a federal prisoner, not legally held in Connecticut, could not be executed until he had completed his federal prison sentence. President Coolidge commuted his federal sentence to expire at once, but Chapman held it was not operative because he refused to accept it. He sought a writ of habeas corpus in the federal court to cause his removal to Atlanta prison. Judge Thomas swept aside as spurious the many novel contentions brought before his court. He said Chapman had been legally brought before the court in Connecticut, that a commutation was a cessation of federal control, was complete in itself, the prisoner having no power of refusal, that a prisoner did not have a choice of jurisdiction to which he was amenable. Obviously the jurisdiction of any court is open to question at the time of arraignment, but the question is not raised then that amounts to consent and the matter is ended.

Chapman has posed from the hour of his arrest as the glorified type of bandit, the wonder criminal, too clever to be taken and held, and has sought to exalt these ideas at all times. Like other big criminals he had funds to secure counsel willing to make use of his ideas of grandeur and beat the charge with novel and unusual pleas. All these pleas were presented to the federal court, heard patiently and cast aside as untenable. Here was an instance where an arch criminal sought to humiliate the forces of government, dictate to the highest official of the nation and enforce his ideas for his own advantage. That he has failed is of importance to the nation. It is well to have it made plain, when the glorified criminal seeks to defeat the law, that the forces of order are stronger than the forces of disorder. The decision of Judge Thomas has unmeasured importance to the public. It may be taken to the higher court at Washington but a decision so grounded in common sense hardly will be disturbed.

2.75 PER CENT BEER

We do not suppose there is the slightest danger of the slightest hope, as one may view the situation, that the Volstead law will be liberalized at this session of congress. That there is a decided popular reaction against prohibition is perfectly evident. But that it has not gone far enough yet to jeopardize the strictness of the law we regard also as perfectly evident. This congress was elected more than 13 months ago and a considerable majority of the members are bone-dry, either by conviction or for policy's sake. The outside reform blocs, though probably not so strong, popularly or politically, as they were a year ago, are still strong enough to exert a commanding influence. Not a few congressmen are still mortally afraid of them.

Senator Edge of New Jersey, has opened what promises to be a long and acrimonious debate over the prohibition question by delivering a carefully prepared address in advocacy of his bill to legalize 2.75 per cent beer. While the legalization of this mild beverage would please millions of people, though it would displease millions more, that it would materially lessen the evils at which Senator Edge doubtless sincerely aims is problematical. Whether any considerable portion of the drinking element would turn from illegal hard liquor to legal 2.75 per cent beer is a question. In the last five years a great many who were or might have become beer drinkers have developed a liking for a stiff kick and this unfortunately applies especially to the young people who drink.

This extraordinary troublesome question will be settled in time by public opinion and where the preponderance of that opinion lies is not yet clear. If all the mature people in the country should vote on the issue it is doubtful what the result could be and the danger is that the division would be so close that a very large minority would be left dissatisfied with the verdict and rebellious against it. Under these circumstances, it is probably for the best that the law apparently is to be permitted to stand substantially as it is or a while longer at least. It is best that this great experiment in social science, now that we are in the midst of it, be given a fair and thorough trial. Unquestionably we are in the trying pan now but before we hotly let us give careful attention to the danger of landing in the fire.

Combined Attack of Gulls Drove Off Hawk

Seagulls' victory over a hawk is described by Albert R. Keen of North Devon in a recent issue of the London Times. He says: "I was visiting Lynton recently and from the high cliffs above the sea I witnessed a most remarkable air battle between about a dozen or more seagulls and a hawk. Their organization and method of attack on the hawk was very much like air battles in the World War. The hawk lasted for about fifteen minutes, until the gulls had driven the hawk entirely away from their domain where they were nesting and chased him off down the coast for a mile or two. The gulls all together cleverly nounced on him with severe pecks and then the other gulls closed in around. It was a very interesting sight."

Leather Retains Strength

That leather of good quality kept for ten years, under ordinary conditions, does not lose more than 15 per cent of its strength was shown by experiments of the bureau of Standards, being stored in the laboratory for a decade was found to be only slightly weaker than new material of the same grade. Indicating that articles made from it would be preserved for an indefinite period if subjected to normal atmosphere, ventilation and light while dampness and sunlight appear to have a harmful effect on the leather. It is believed the results of the studies will enable manufacturers of shoes, luggage and similar goods to alter shipping and storage practices, since such articles may be capable of many years of service even though they might not reach the user until one to three years after they are made.—Exchange.

"Without popular education, no government which rests upon popular action can long endure." These are the words of Woodrow Wilson, who was one of the great authorities on government. Uncle Sam realizes his responsibility in educating his people and has made available to them the immense governmental resources of information. Our Washington Bureau will act as agent for you and procure any data that it is within the rules of the government to give out. Q. How fast does an airplane ascend?
A. H. H.
A. The climb of an airplane is approximately from 400 to 1200 feet per minute.

Q. Will helium ever completely take the place of hydrogen for inflating dirigibles?
A. W. T. T.
A. German scientists report that they have discovered a new source of helium, the non-inflammable gas, non-toxic. Experiments show that helium can be produced from the mineral in paying quantities, so that hydrogen may soon be discarded for inflating dirigibles.

Q. Do many farm communities have radios so that they can take advantage of the market reports, a weather report, and other information essential to their welfare?
A. A. S.
A. Progress in the use of radio for the dissemination and reception of agricultural information during the last four years has kept pace with the general development of the new American industry. It is conservatively estimated that there are now about 375,000 radiophone receiving sets on farms in the United States, which is an increase of over 165 per cent in one year.

Q. What are the duties of a dental hygienist?
A. W. D. D.
A. The dental hygienist is permitted only to remove stains and deposits from the exposed surfaces of the teeth. He may be employed in public institutions, in schools, and in offices of licensed dentists.

A. R. J. N.

Q. Is the title of a copyrighted book protected by the copyright registration so that no one else can employ it?
A. R. A. H.
A. Neither the author nor proprietor of a literary work, whether copyrighted or not, has any property in its name. The name is a term of description, which serves to identify the work; but any other person can adopt it and apply it to any other book, provided he does not use it as a false token, to induce the public to believe that the thing to which it is applied is the identical thing which it originally designated. However, the name of a drama, in connection with a valid trademark, may become a trademark. So, also, may be the name of a newspaper, or of a magazine periodically issued.

Q. Has Europe any trees that compare in size with the big trees of California?
A. G. G.
A. While there are none so large as the California Sequoias, large specimens are found in sections of Russia and in the forested parts of Germany and the Balkans.

Q. What is the difference in color between the male and female sea gull?
A. K. Z.
A. The Biological Survey says that there is practically no difference between the color of the male and female sea gull; in fact, in the case of all ocean birds, it is hard to distinguish the sexes. Young sea gulls, however, are gray.

DEATH IN THE WATERS

The overflow of a river in consequence of excessive rainfall is the most familiar type of flood, but there are many others, says Nature Magazine. Low-lying coasts of the ocean are often inundated by so-called "tidal waves"—which have nothing to do with tides in the ordinary sense of the term.

Some of these waves are due to earthquakes, others to storms. In the Lisbon earthquake of November 1, 1755, 60,000 people were drowned by a wave eight feet high that advanced from the sea.

The most destructive storm waves have occurred along the coast of the Bay of Bengal. The one of October 7, 1737, is said to have risen 40 feet in the River Hugli, sweeping away 300,000 souls. The Calcutta cyclone of October 3, 1864, caused the drowning of 48,000 people.

In the terrible Backergunge hurricane of 1876 the water rose from 30 to 40 feet in less than half an hour during the night of October 31-November 1, and 100,000 persons perished.

ONE ON THE PASTOR

The good pastor was a little absent-minded, and somewhere or other during the day, possibly at the barber shop, he acquired a hat that looked very like his, but belonged to some one else.

That evening he dined out and when the guests were leaving the host accompanied them to the door.

"This is yours, is it not?" said the host, picking up the parson's hat.

"Yes," said the parson, "that is mine."

There was a queer smile on the host's face as he handed over the headgear. For pasted in the crown thereof was a card bearing this legend, meant for all and sundry: "No, my friend, this is not your hat."

MAN CAUGHT AFTER SENSATIONAL LEAP

Burglar's Flight: As Cops Give Chase As Thrilling As Movie Story

Houston, Dec. 19.—A leap from the top of the third story of a South End house across a six-foot airway through the glass window into a room where two girls were sleeping, a 30-foot drop from another window to the street, the dodging of bullets from a policeman's revolver and a collapse in the street from a bullet wound in the knee—these were the highlights in the sensational chase and capture today of James L. Johnson, 27, of Hartford, Conn., who, with a companion, attempted to burglarize a drug store of liquor and narcotics.
George V. Hunt, 24, also of Hartford, was captured inside the drug store.
"What a fool I am. I did this for women," Johnson told police.
Two women, one a chorus girl, found in the hotel room where Johnson and Hunt were stopping, were questioned.

CHARGES ACTUARY MISMANAGES OHIO WORKMAN'S FUNDS

Discrimination Is Charged In Administration of Insurance Funds

Columbus, Dec. 19.—Ohio's $48,500,000 workmen's compensation fund and its approximately 25,000 subscribers today were made the center of a sweeping investigation which may affect at least two state departments and a number of former state officials before completed and result in a general "clean up" in the compensation division of the department of industrial relations.

This became known today with the filing of charges by Nathan Vigan, a Cincinnati attorney, against E. J. Evans, actuary of the state insurance fund, a division of the department of industrial relations, alleging "discrimination and lack of intelligence in administration of the funds."

Vigan filed his protest on behalf of two Cincinnati manufacturing concerns who charged that their insurance rates were out of proportion and much higher than charged other concerns of the same classification. Shortly after the charge was filed it was also learned that another elective state official has for some weeks, at the instigation of a member of the industrial commission, been conducting a probe into activities of the insurance division.

This official is known to have reported to the commission member that "outside" actuarys, at least two of whom were formerly connected with the insurance fund, were reaping rich harvests from industrial concerns by "correcting" mistakes in insurance schedules.

Charges against Evans were filed with the state industrial commission composed of Thomas J. Duffy, chairman, J. D. Clark and Rose Moriarty.

Miss Moriarty said that the charges would be investigated and a hearing conducted. If Evans is found guilty, the commission will recommend to Herman I. Witter, director of the department of industrial relations that he be dismissed.

Tobacco Makes Women Lose Men, Crusader Avers

Tact approval of smoking in certain girls' colleges has caused Charles G. Pease, head of Non-Smokers' Protective League, to launch a new campaign against use of the weed by women. Tobacco makes women lose their morals, their complexions, their graceful figures, and their lovers, he avers.

"I'm sorry I kept you waiting so long, Harry, dear," murmured the wife as she appeared ready for the theater. "It took me so long to put on my coat."

"Did you put on only one coat?" he asked, blandly.

COURT NEWS

Salem Case Settled
A settlement has been reached in the $1,000 damage action filed in common pleas court by Virginia Belle Shone, aged seven years of Salem, which was filed by her father as her next friend and against Lawrence T. McCluzkage. There was a trial to the court, a jury being waived, and a settlement was made on a basis of $200. The case grew out of an automobile accident, and was filed several days ago, so that a court record could be had as to the adjustment of the claim.

Rogers Will Appeal
An entry made by Judge James G. Moore Dec. 7 last in the case of John Rogers of Salem as plaintiff in error against the State of Ohio as defendant in error, in which the decision of the lower court, or that of Mayor George Russell of Salem was affirmed, has been set aside and a new journal entry has been approved.

In this entry the decision of the lower court is still affirmed but because of the plaintiff in error filed his exceptions to the ruling of the court a stay of execution of the judgment is granted, pending perfection of a proceeding in error in the court of appeals. Rogers was fined by Mayor Russell for violating the liquor laws.

SENATE GETS TAX REDUCTION BILL

House Passes Measure With 25 Insurgents and Democrats Voting No

Washington, Dec. 19.—The $325,000,000 tax reduction bill, passed by the house in record time and by a record vote, went to the senate today where it will not receive such speedy attention or respect as the house accorded it.

Numerous amendments are planned for it in the senate, and the most sagacious supporters do not expect it to emerge in final form until early March. It will be the aim, however, to get it through by March 15, the date on which returns are due for 1925 incomes.

Only 25 votes were cast against the bill in the house, as against the overwhelming total of 390 in its favor. The opposition was furnished by the Republican insurgents and a handful of Democrats, all of whom contended that it was "a rich man's tax bill" and did not give the "little fellow" a proportionate cut.

COUNTY HIGH CAGE TEAMS ANTICIPATE WARM TITLE FIGHT

East Liverpool Boys, Columbiana Girls, In Early Dope Look Like Strongest Teams; County Race Stars on Jan. 8

While Salem High basketball mentors are busily engaged in shaping combinations from a bulk of chiefly green material, the majority of the high schools of the county where the game is played are looking forward to excellent seasons with veterans a plenty shining forth.

They say in East Liverpool that this is an "East Liverpool year." Claiming the county grid title, though that school is alone in the belief the Blue won the race, the river city basketballers already are loudly defying the world to stop them from bringing home a title.

Coch H. T. Loran, former Michigan star, who is at the helm of the Boys team, and Miss Hazel Mast, of the Girls outfit, are favored with plenty of veteran material, and may make good the boast. It will be remembered that Salem's Girls found Liverpool one of the toughest opponents last season, and likewise the Boys were not a bit easy. With about the same teams back again Liverpool is a school to be feared in this cage race.

East Palestine will probably have a better Boys five than Girls. Take a look at these veterans of the Brown and White: Dolan, Freed, Orndorff, Hindman and Flynn. The big center, Orndorff, is one of the county's greatest players. As usual Palestine will have a fairly small but speedy team, capable of doing a lot of damage even if the title isn't won. The Brown sextet, on the other hand, may show something as the season progresses but is not very promising right now.

Columbiana Girls Good

Lisbon, with some of the great team of last year gone, still has enough high class talent to turn out a dangerous five. In fact if one would be picking dark horses at this stage, Lisbon would draw that ticket. The county seat has been coming to the fore of late in this strenuous game of basketball and a good season is expected. Lisbon's candidates for the Girls team are not flashy but are expected to make up a fighting combination.

Wellsville is far from downhearted this year. With Wally Pignatore as the chief star, the Orange and Black have taken a new lease on things, despite a most disastrous football season. Wellsville wants to retrieve some of the honor so doused in the mud of the gridiron.

Columbiana, for once, is singing the blues. This school, where basketball is eaten with every lesson, lost most of the splendid Boys team of last season, and little veteran material is left. It looks like a lean year for the male five, but the Girls team of the Red and White school looks today like the strongest in the county. Most of the stars are back and the team that wins the title will have to trounce these girls.

The county race does not get under way until Jan. 8 when Salem meets Wellsville here. Columbiana plays at Lisbon; and East Palestine goes to East Liverpool.

EIGHT GAMES ON LISBON HIGH SKED

Eight games have been scheduled by the Lisbon High school basketball five for the current season, and this schedule will be five double headers, both boys and girls, and three single games. Season tickets for these games have been placed on sale by R. L. Hendricks, president of the Lisbon High Alumni association.

The complete schedule for the season is announced as follows:

- Minerva Boys (at home) Dec. 23.
- Salineville (at home) Dec. 29.
- Columbiana (at home) Jan. 8.
- East Liverpool (abroad) Jan. 9.

LEETONIA

The Parent-Teachers Association held its December meeting on Thursday evening in St. Paul's chapel. A splendid program was rendered by the students of the seventh and eighth grades. The following play was given:

"To Santa's Land, With the Dream Man," cantata, seventh and eighth grades; Santa, Marion Mossman; Dream Man, Robert Miller; Joy and Goodwill, Lena Jane Belharr; Dorothy Williams, fairy of pleasant dreams, Vera Chamberlain; orphans, Rhea Miller, Ruby Wender; gingerbread tree, Mary Johnson; the fairies, guards, nurses and dryads were composed of other pupils of these two grades. The boys and girls showed real talent in the way each one portrayed the character he represented.

Misses Nelle Courtwright and Mabel Guller, teachers of the third and fifth grades, South Side school, most charmingly entertained at a Christmas party on Wednesday evening at their home with Mrs. Carrie Harrington.

The guest list comprised the teachers of the schools, also Prof. and Mrs. E. P. Stonebreaker. The home was artistically decorated in holly, poinsettias, etc., in the Christmas colors, red and green. The evening was spent in games and contests. The prize winners in the contests were: Miss Alice Clark, Miss Roma Lagon, Miss June Cunningham and Miss Elma Rauch. They also had a very jolly Santa Claus, who presented each with a handsome gift, this being the regular gift exchange. At a late hour a delightful lunch was served by the hostesses.

Clyde R. Shontz received word Thursday of the death of his sister, Miss Matilda Shontz, which occurred Wednesday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Hugh Brannon, Portland, Ore., following an illness of six months from a malignant tumor.

Miss Shontz, better known here as Miss Tittle, was born 56 years ago in Copia, a short distance from Alliance, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Shontz. While in infancy she was brought to Leetonia by her parents where she lived until about 15 years ago, when she went to California. She also spent some time in Seattle, Wash.

During these years she had visited here several times. The last time she was here was five years ago, when she spent about a year at the home of her brother.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters: Clyde R. Shontz, of Leetonia; Dallas Shontz of Alaska; Mrs. Hugh Brannon of Portland, Ore.

Mrs. Murch Russell of Willamina, Ore., Mrs. O. H. Russell, Wellsville; and one half brother, Gerald Shontz.

Funeral service was held in the funeral parlors in Portland, where the body will be laid to rest.

WASHINGTONVILLE

On Sunday evening the members of Washingtonville Methodist church pledged $350 to pay off every debt to Jan. 1, 1926. On Thursday evening they met for prayer meeting and found that all pledges had been paid up and quite a little sum over the amount.

This cancels a note of $200 for repairs made on the parsonage a year ago, and all current expenses of the church to Jan. 1.

The evening was then spent in a social way, refreshments being served by the ladies and a fine Christmas gift of groceries and money presented to Rev. Cole and family.

Their Christmas entertainment will be held on Sunday evening.

Misses Hazel Indermill and Doris Bailey were hostesses to the Skip-a-Week club on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Bailey. Games and contests were diversions. Misses Elsie and Wilma DeJame winning prizes. An exchange of Christmas gifts was enjoyed, each member receiving a pretty gift. The hostesses served a fine lunch. In two weeks the club will be entertained by Miss Helen McNeal and Helen Eyster, the home of the former.

J. G. Whore has been selected by the G. C. of the state of Ohio, as speaker from Columbiana county to represent the K. of P. ed throughout the state. On Jan. 9, he will make his first address at Cosaut, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fitzsimmon were guests over Sunday in the home of his mother, Mrs. Nancy Fitzsimmons.

Mrs. Wm. Simpson and Mrs. Doris Simpson were callers in Youngstown, Thursday.

Thomas Marshall is in the Salem City hospital suffering from a broken collar bone and severe bruises which he received while getting off the bus on his way to work on Wednesday morning.

Mrs. Ed Frankford is in Pennylvania, this week attending the funeral of her brother.

Messames Ansel Senheiser, Ben DeJame and Wm. Simpson were Salem callers on Wednesday.

As a courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spear, newlyweds, a number of young folks surprised them on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stouffer, with a delicious shower. They received a number of useful gifts for their new home. The hostess served a fine lunch.

Mrs. H. L. McIntosh and Mrs. Albert Spear were Salem shoppers on Thursday and visited Thomas Marshall at the Salem hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester McCave of Canton, spent Wednesday evening here and attended the shower for Mr. and Mrs. Albert Spear.

The I. O. O. F. lodge are planning a drive to have Oakland cemetery rededicated. A meeting will be called on and all interested should attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boston entertained to dinner on Sunday in honor of their son Leslie's recent marriage to Miss Rachel Allison of Greenfoot. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Allison and family of Greenfoot; Mr. and Mrs. Newcomer of Petersburg; Miss Bensinger of North Lima; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boston and daughter; Mrs. Lydia Boston, Mrs. Nettie Slagle, Mrs. Charity Roller and son Eugene and Marvin Fieldhouse.

THEATERS HAVE GOOD CHRISTMAS WEEK PROGRAMS

You will like the Christmas week programs at the State and Grand which Manager Rakestraw has arranged. He was disappointed in his plans for the Grand, in that the Bob Ott company which was to have played musical stock here all week, had a mix-up in bookings and will be in Warren another week and Salem is left out in the cold. Ott, however, is trying to get his dates straightened out so he will be here later. Despite this last minute interruption Rakestraw hurried to Cleveland and succeeded in arranging some good movie bills for the Grand.

The State will entertain with a new Poll Negri offering and D. W. Griffith's first Paramount. Poll's picture has the key city release date of Dec. 21 so that means Salem will get the film at the same time the big cities see it. It is just out of the cutting room at Los Angeles and will be sent here direct from that city. The name of the picture is "A Woman of the World," with a theme of the type which the fiery actress can use so well.

W. C. Fields, for 10 years the chief comedian of Ziegfeld's Follies; Carol Dempster, who was co-starred with Fields in "Sally of the Sawdust," James Kirkwood and Harrison Ford have the leading roles in "That Royle Girl," a comedy drama of the Chicago underworld. This picture will be shown at the State the last three days of next week. The film is 10 reels long, and excellent reports on the picture have been received.

Thursday and Friday, twice nightly, Miss Verna Bolten, Salem dancer and dancing instructor, will interpret "The Spirit of Christmas" in a symbolic dance at the State. Special music will accompany her act.

Monday and Tuesday the Grand will have "Putting It Over," with Richard Talmadge as the star. Wednesday "The Wolf Man" will be shown. On Thursday, Friday and Saturday a double feature is booked. Harold Lloyd's "Doctor Jack" will play a return engagement, and "The Dangerous Philr" with beautiful Evelyn Brent, will be the other feature.

The full bills for the week follow:

COALCO.

Why Go To Florida?

Use a good coal in your heater and keep the house comfortable. When you feel like it put on your wraps, go outside, and let the snappy fall and winter air set your blood to moving.

There is nothing like that in Florida.

With one of our good coals you can keep the house as warm as you want it. Any one of them is worth trying.

Warding Off Cold Helps Egg Supply

Keeping poultry flocks in production despite cold weather will soon be the poultryman's biggest job. It can be done better than it usually is, poultry specialists at the Ohio State university believe, simply by keeping heat in the poultry house during cold snaps.

"Cold snaps always result in more favorable egg prices," G. S. Vickers, one of the specialists, points out. "So it's wise to plan now to maintain production during such periods. Egg production drops simply because the chickens are cold and refuse to eat. Heating the house keeps them eating at a normal rate."

"The house need not be heated to a high temperature," Mr. Vickers continues. "It is enough to keep the chill off the house and prevent the drinking water from freezing. The cheapest way to do this is to set the brooder stove up in the laying house, and use it only during real cold weather. A piece of wire netting around the stove will prevent injury to the hens.

"When this is done, the open fronts in the house should be covered with windows or heavy cloth. Some ventilation, of course, must be provided for when artificial heat is used.

"If you can't heat the house, feed a warm moist mash on the cold days, usually five or six times a day. After the cold gradually reduce the wet mash ration."

Bellaire—Mr. and Mrs. Robeson Workman, 91 and 87, observed their 70th wedding anniversary this week.

They were married in St. Clairsville, the county seat of Belmont county, Dec. 14, 1855, and have resided there all the time. Sixteen children were born, 11 still living among them being Dr. W. S. Workman of Orleans, Ind., 68.

ENSEMBLE SUITS MADE TO WEAR UNDER GREAT-COAT

APPLE RED KASHA CLOTH / THE FLARE JUMPER SUIT & MAKES CHIC ENSEMBLE / THE MANNISH JACKET

By VYVYAN DONNER

THE modern woman prepares for the very bitter cold weather by getting a suit to wear under her great-coat, or top-coat, or fur-coat—whatever you like to call it.

In the old days, madame was content to put on an extra little woolly jacket under her big winter coat on freezing days.

Or a sweater for extra warmth—but not so now. She likes neither the "hug-me-tight" nor the sweater. They are not things of beauty in her eyes, and look horrid when she removes her big coat. So she has a dress, with a jacket to match. An ensemble suit, no less, to keep her warm. Above are shown three types of ensemble suits that are worn under coats.

Girl." The suit is in apple red kasha, the favored red of the season. It is of three-quarter length, with loose sleeves, and prettily embroidered in threads of other reds, and browns. It has the fashionable high neck, with ends tied about the throat.

Two other gowns also seen in the modiste shop scenes of this Paramount picture, are sketched at the right of the layout. The top model is of velvet, a jumper model, with the popular flaring skirt, with three decorative inverted pleats at each side of the skirt. It has the collar and cuffs so plain and smart. The coloring is wine shade.

The coat glimpsed in the lower corner is of tweed, very mannish in cut, and features two inverted box pleats at its back. This coat is belted in self material, and its skirt is quite plain, save for a kick pleat in front.

How To Keep The House Warm

In order to obtain satisfactory results from a heating plant it is necessary to understand and operate it intelligently.

This bureau has for free distribution a booklet on the operation of home heating plants, which contains detailed information on the subject. Every person who is interested in getting a maximum amount of heat out of a minimum amount of fuel should send for copy of this booklet. Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage.

Novel Details Add Chic

The Straight Silhouette Frequently Forms a Smart Background for a Complication of Little Things

Significant in the winter mode is the importance paid to detail. The old—and very true—saying that the little things count has been found the season's best sartorial proverb. From the crown of her well turbaned head to the toe of her smart kid boot is a harmonious appearance demanded. It is not sufficient to appear in a gown which smacks of Paris inspiration, but all the little accessories which go so far towards creating an appearance of elegance must be in strict accord.

It is equally important that the details which make the chic of the costume be considered. The gown itself must, of course, boast the new silhouette, and as well feature a novelty of detail to establish its fundamental chic.

It is not enough to note that there is a flaring hem line, but it is important that the lines which make the flare be founded upon grace and beauty of motion. Backs are all important in the mode, and the frock that introduces a bolero back or an intricate draping, either to establish an even hemline or a bustle back, are successful details.

Fronts, too, share in the established order of chic. The up-the-front movement is well popularized and adds a definite smartness. The apron effect, or tied bow, also denote a new note and are worn. Sleeves are making their presence felt most successfully by drawing attention to themselves in their lovely lines.

Colors are important and embroidery in silk, wool or beads adds an intricacy of detail that is very smart. Dorothy Mackall, in her newest First National film, "Joanna," appears in a smart afternoon ensemble, the details of which establish a youthful chic.

SURVEY INDICATES RETURN TO NORMAL BUILDING PROGRAM

Many Cities Predict New Building Record For Coming Year

New York, Dec. 19.—Return to normal conditions in the country's building program is indicated in an exhaustive survey of building conditions in 70 cities and districts of the country made public today by G. L. Miller & Co. The survey was made with co-operation of the Associated General Contractor and the National Council of Building Trade Employers. The situation at the end of this year was thus summarized:

Fifty-two districts reported the outlook for another big building year. Eight cities predicted new high building record during the next 12 months.

Thirteen cities and two districts reported definitely the possibility of slump construction.

Thirty-one cities temporarily caught up with apartment house and home building requirements.

Twenty-two cities reported important industrial and commercial building programs.

Three cities have shortage in housing facilities, ten reported deficit in public and industrial building.

No Decline In Big Cities

Few of the larger cities expect any material decline in building activities, according to the Miller survey. New York, Chicago, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Los Angeles, Detroit and other large cities expect another big construction year, equaling if not exceeding the 1925 volume. Cincinnati, Kansas City and Minneapolis were the largest of the small number of cities expecting a slump, few of which anticipated any serious depression.

Practically all of the larger cities such as Cleveland, Detroit, Los Angeles, Cincinnati, Baltimore, Boston, St. Louis, have caught up temporarily, at least, on apartment house and home accommodations. Only three cities, Tampa and Miami, Fla., and Salt Lake City, Utah, reported any material housing shortage.

More than a score of cities reported that they were undertaking huge normal building programs in an effort to keep pace with their rapid growth. Cities where housing facilities were sufficient reported that no slackening of activity in industry could be expected as there were large deficits in industrial commercial and public accommodations.

Another pet of the season—the black velvet dinner gown (right) has as its only touch of color a brilliant rose posed at the waist. Upper center is a large hat for southern wear or early spring in a delicate lavender shade faced with flowered georgette crepe and banded with velvet in deep violet color.

LATEST IN STYLE FOR WOMEN

Paris, Dec. 19.—Paris couturiers are putting some new crimpings into their pajamas that will be popular at French resorts as well as at Palm Beach this winter.

It was Mary Nowitzky who started the charming little over-all pajamas which were so much worn at Lido last summer. They come in lovely laces, broad velvets and satins of all kinds. There is a diversity of design combined with a brilliant use of color and feeling for the rich fabrics which certainly could come only from Paris. "Kangaroo" is a design in a soft taupe crepe de chine with narrow pipings of red and an amusing large pocket in front for a big red kerchief. Another is in orange chiffon with a decoration of roses on the front of the blouse and over this is worn a short flaring coat of white quilted satin embroidered with wide separated stripes of tiny roses. Nearly all the trousers are wide and floppy giving the effect of a shirt.
